

Tech House and House DJ and producer.
Antofagasta, Chile.

BIO

J ANTONY is a Chilean DJ and music producer from Antofagasta whose work centres on Tech House and House. His sound is built on enveloping grooves, heavy basslines, driving percussion and an energy made to connect with the dancefloor.

Beyond the mixes, his project is a constant search for identity, evolution and growth in electronic music. Through his sets, productions and music content he works toward a sound of his own and to bring Antofagasta's electronic identity to new audiences across Chile.

His commitment to the scene also shows in EL GR3MIO, a community created to connect, push and give visibility to local DJs, producers and electronic artists. In parallel he founded DECODER, a label and music platform focused on discovering new talent and promoting electronic sounds without labels.

For J ANTONY, music is a process of constant learning, discipline and perseverance. His vision goes beyond the stage: building a solid artistic identity, contributing to electronic culture and opening new opportunities for talent born in the north of Chile.

PERSEVERANCE IS THE KEY.
